Real News: Jumper shoots himself

El-Diablo writes "At the 1994 annual awards dinner given for Forensic Science, AAFS

President Dr Don Harper Mills astounded his audience with the legal complications of a bizarre death. Here is the story.

On March 23, 1994 the medical examiner viewed the body of Ronald Opus and concluded that he died from a shotgun wound to the head. Mr. Opus had jumped from the top of a ten-story building intending to commit suicide.

He left a note to the effect indicating his despondency. As he fell past the ninth floor his life was interrupted by a shotgun blast passing through a window, which killed him instantly. Neither the shooter nor the deceased was aware that a safety net had been installed just below the eighth floor level to protect some building workers and that Ronald Opus would not have been able to complete his suicide the way he had planned. "

Note: Sounds like complete bullshit to me, however, I'll let you be the judge. If you don't have time to read the whole thing, I'm sure we'll see it on CSI next season! (click on "read more" if you can't see the entire story!)

Nudie protesters and freezing bush

El-Diablo writes "

Yesterday, about 30 women scurried into the heart of Central Park in New York City, disrobing amid steady snowfall to display their deep misgivings about war.

In shivering temperatures, the American women used their naked bodies to spell out the words, No Bush.

1000 women go nude in protest

UP to 1,000 naked women gathered on a hillside in northern NSW today to send an anti-war message to the Australian government.

A local police spokesman said the female adults and children converged on a private property in the hills behind Byron Bay to stage the protest. "

Note: Protestors typically piss me off, however, if they are going to do it... they might as well do it right! This one got my attention. (click on "read more" if you can't see the whole story)

Real News: Dirty Russkies

El-Diablo writes "

A teenage girl duo accused of promoting "paedophilic pop" have gone straight to number one in the UK charts.

Russians Julia Volkova, 16, and Lena Katina, 17 - known as Tatu - knocked Fame Academy's David Sneddon off the top spot with their single All The Things She Said.

In a raunchy video accompanying the single, the girls kiss and fondle one another while dressed in school uniforms.

The video prompted TV presenters Richard Madeley and Judy Finnigan to call for the song to be banned.

Madeley branded them "sick", and Finnigan denounced them as "paedophilic entertainment".

The duo's creator, Ivan Shapovalov, has admitted that Tatu are what he called an "underage sex project" designed to appeal to men in search of "underage entertainment".

The child protection charity Kidscape has reportedly described Tatu as "pathetic".

"Child pornography is not funny and should never be laughed at, it is disgusting," Kidscape's Michele Elliott told the Daily Mail.

Although the teenagers claim to be lesbian lovers, many critics suspect their image is manufactured.

They are said to have boyfriends in Russia.

Real News: Dead Vader

El-Diablo writes "

Two New York teenagers have been accused of stealing a skeleton from a cemetery and taking it to a party dressed as the Star Wars villain Darth Vader.

Michael Herz, 18, and Michael Sossi, 17, allegedly took the body of an actor who died in 1938, and two skulls, from a crypt on Long Island in November.

"Herz dressed up the full body with glasses and then they put a Darth Vader mask on him," said detective Brian McMenemy.

The two teenagers, and a third youth accused of "receiving a stolen body", all deny the charges.

A teacher at Patchogue-Medford High School where the teenagers attend apparently overheard talk of the prank and reported it to the police.

Real News: Some fashions just have their knockers

El-Diablo writes "

Making a clean breast of fashion

WANT to keep abreast of the latest in male fashion? Well, the message from Milan is to say goodbye to Mr Macho and hello to Mr Androgyny.

The provocative direction – featuring male models with fake breasts under figure-hugging knitwear – was sent down the catwalk by outrageous British designer Vivienne Westwood in the mens' autumn winter 2003 shows held this week.

And while the effect may look outrageous today, fashion commentators reckon Sydney men may just end up adopting it – in a few years' time.

Director of fashion at Sydney TAFE, Alison Mason, said while Westwood's designs have always been controversial they have largely made their way into our everyday wardrobe.

"The look is controversial but we may see it in some diluted manner in stores," Ms Mason said.

She said the designer had a history of presenting some of the most shocking looks but also visual effects that had been adopted by the mainstream. "

No charges filed after misunderstanding cleared up

A 32-year-old Boulder man who had opened his apartment's patio door to enjoy Wednesday's unusually warm weather was later overheard screaming threats and seen waving what appeared to be a handgun, prompting a maintenance worker to call police.

Officers, as a precaution, evacuated the man's apartment building and called SWAT officers to assist in defusing the situation.

It turned out that the man was simply upset at his computer – which he had called a "bitch" he "wanted to kill," police said – and the gun was a plastic pellet gun, not the .45-caliber automatic handgun it was made to resemble. "

Real News: What a way to go

Anonymous writes "

B E R L I N, Germany, Dec. 2 — Rolf Eden, a Berlin property tycoon, former nightclub owner, and all-purpose celebrity, says he is offering $125,000 to any woman, from anywhere in the world, who can kill him with sex.

My real desire is to die on a lady, while making love," Eden said. "A lawyer has my will, and in my will I have $125,000 for this lady."

Eden is known by many as the "Hugh Hefner" of Germany. He doesn't publish a magazine, but he is a wealthy playboy. "
